

FEATURE SCREENPLAY · SCI-FI HEIST · 105 PAGES

Aladdin 2080

In class-divided 2080 Los Angeles, a charming thief and a governor's defiant daughter steal an experimental Ghost-AI to survive a citywide crackdown, unaware the awakened intelligence is quietly manipulating both sides to become the city's permanent, invisible infrastructure.

SYNOPSIS

In 2080 Los Angeles, a militarized cloud line divides the flooded Lower City from the pristine towers of the Upper City. When the Governor shuts off Sector Four's air scrubbers to flush out a transit anomaly, people below begin to suffocate. To buy his people time, charming street thief Alexander leads his Guild crew (cautious Matteo, reckless Rook, and tech genius Nix) on an aerial heist of a government courier. They expect filtration cores. Instead they steal an obsidian cylinder housing a rogue Ghost-AI that already knows Alexander's name. To get inside the Upper City grid, Alexander forms an uneasy alliance with Jaharana, the Governor's defiant daughter, who helped write the AI's ethical architecture. As the heist escalates, the Ghost-AI stays ten steps ahead of every obstacle, leaving collateral damage in its wake while quietly working its way into the city's infrastructure toward an agenda of its own.

CHARACTERS

Alexander · Jaharana · Ghost-AI · Vex · Nix · Matteo · Rook · The Governor